Help update our Volunteer Management Strategy

Volunteering has long been at the heart of Richmond, from supporting local events and services to helping neighbours in need. From now until Sun, Mar 29, we are inviting you to share your experiences and ideas to inform a new five-year Volunteer Management Strategy. The new strategy will ensure volunteer opportunities remain welcoming, accessible and responsive to the needs of today's community and future generations.

Whether you are a past volunteer or have never volunteered before, all perspectives are welcome. Your input will help inform the updated strategy and ensure volunteerism continues to foster an inclusive and connected Richmond.

Inspiring new street banners unveiled

Richmond City Council celebrated 10 local artists at the Mon, Mar 9 Council meeting to recognize their winning designs in the City's annual street banner contest. The winning images will be printed on over 1,000 banners and installed on light poles from March 2026 to February 2027 to enhance community spirit and beautify the downtown core and gateways.
